

An Innovation In Compostable Packaging is Taking Shape.

Our unique blend of biomass and conventional material creates a rigid and effective capsule, tray or container that is substantially more environmentally-friendly than any other packaging solution available in today's market.

Available for K Cup

The zero-waste pod compatible with Keurig coffee machines.

Sustainably Made

Made from Renewable Plant Resources.

Available for Trays

Higher strength rigidity than conventional food trays and less environmental impact.

Fully Compostable

Proprietary blend of natural and industrial materials.

Available for Portion Cups

A green alternative to standard sauce, dips and fruit packaging.

Oxygen and Water Resistant

Our technology protects your product from the elements twice as well as any conventional material - extending freshness without compromising compostability.
